

Mainview Investigative Services and S. Young Investigations Inc. Announce Merger of Operations

October 23, 2017 – Mainview and SYI announced today the merger of these highly respected companies to better service the needs of their valued clients moving forward.

The combined expertise and resources will allow us to be in a better position to tackle emerging investigative trends within our industry. The diverse team formed by this exciting merger has more than 100 years of combined experience in the investigation, insurance claims, security, enforcement, fraud examination and information technology fields.

Clients will benefit from this merger in many ways. We have increased our team of investigators, expanded our service area in the Maritime region to now include New Brunswick and PEI, and combined our technological resources and expertise.

With all of these changes, clients can remain confident that the excellent level of service you have become accustomed to receiving over the last several years will not change. This merger allows clients to be confident in choosing the services of Mainview and SYI to address all of their investigative needs.
